

Making a Will: FAQs

Why do I need a Will?

A Will is the only way to ensure your home, money and personal possessions pass to the people or charities you choose. Without one, the intestacy rules decide who inherits, which may not reflect your wishes and can create stress, delays and additional costs for your loved ones.

Who should make a Will?

A Will isn't only for the wealthy. If you own any assets, property, savings, investments, life insurance or personal belongings you should have a Will. It ensures everything you own is dealt with as you intend.

What do I need to think about?

Whether creating a Will for the first time or updating an existing one, consider who you want to appoint as Executors and Trustees, how you wish to divide your estate and what should happen if a beneficiary dies before you. If you have children under 18, you'll also need to appoint guardians. We will guide you through the process with our confidential Will questionnaire.

Why use Rogers & Norton to make a Will?

While it's possible to create your own Will, it must be drafted and signed correctly to be valid. Working with a regulated professional gives you peace of mind that everything has been prepared properly, your wishes are clearly set out, and you have expert guidance at every stage.

Our specialist team has extensive experience in Wills, estate planning and related matters. We include accredited members of STEP, Solicitors for the Elderly and the Law Society's Private Client Section, ensuring you receive trusted, knowledgeable advice tailored to your circumstances.
